

Burns Pet Nutrition Limited

Press Release

20 December 2010

Burns @ Pets Corner

When local businessman John Burns heard that a local pet shop was closing he decided to step in. The previous owner, Mrs Grace Jones, had announced her retirement after 22 years of running the business and it looked as though the town centre was going to lose its only pet shop.

Burns Pet Nutrition took over the lease of the shop at the beginning of December and the business has continued without its customers suffering any disruption in service. John Burns said "Burns has always encouraged its customers to support local traders. Small local shops are a vital part of the community especially for older customers and those without their own transport. When I heard that Carmarthen was about to lose its only independent pet shop I knew that I had to do something. Taking over the shop seemed the logical answer."

"Burns @ Pets Corner" will continue to stock a wide range of pet products. Free pet weight checks are available during opening hours and members of Burns expert nutrition advice team will be in attendance once a week to provide free advice on feeding your pet.
